CHAPTER 01

That's When Mister Nonsense Showed Up

New York City, November 2002.
It is the end of the working day.

The rumbling sound of the subway moves uptown, leaving only footsteps echoing.

Boom lives in New York but she's not from New York.

She wonders how many people in this passageway were born here.

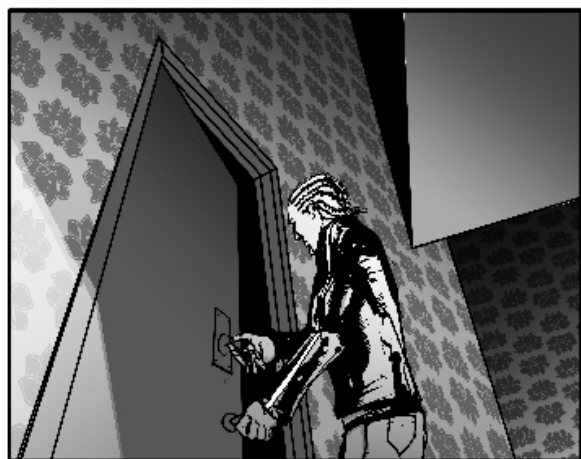

Boom doesn't realize that she hasn't blinked since she stepped off the subway.

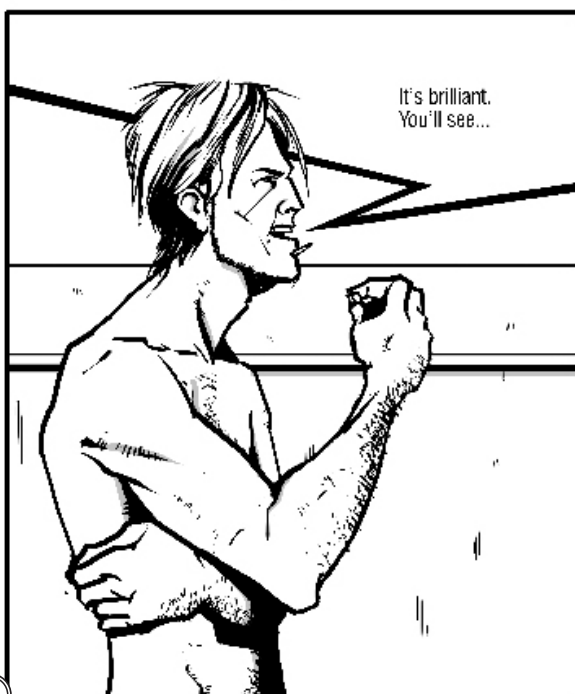

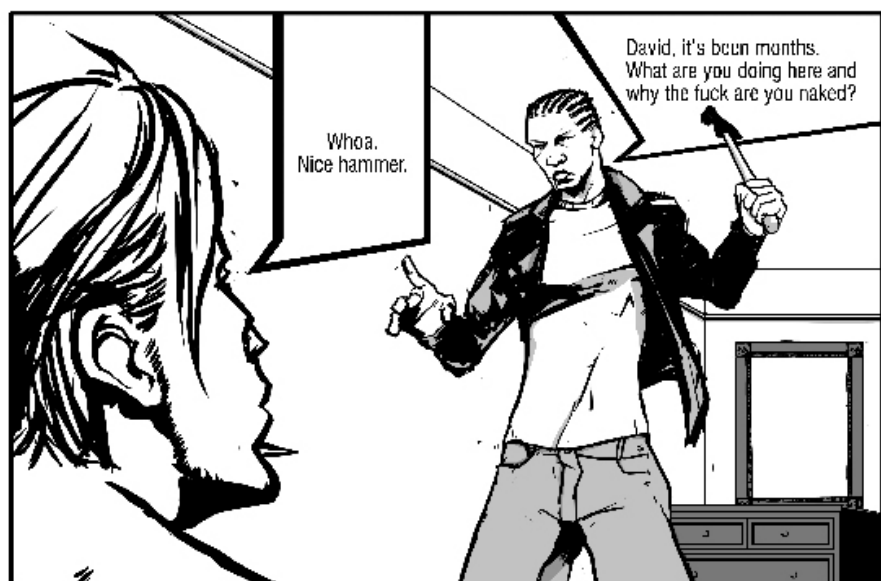

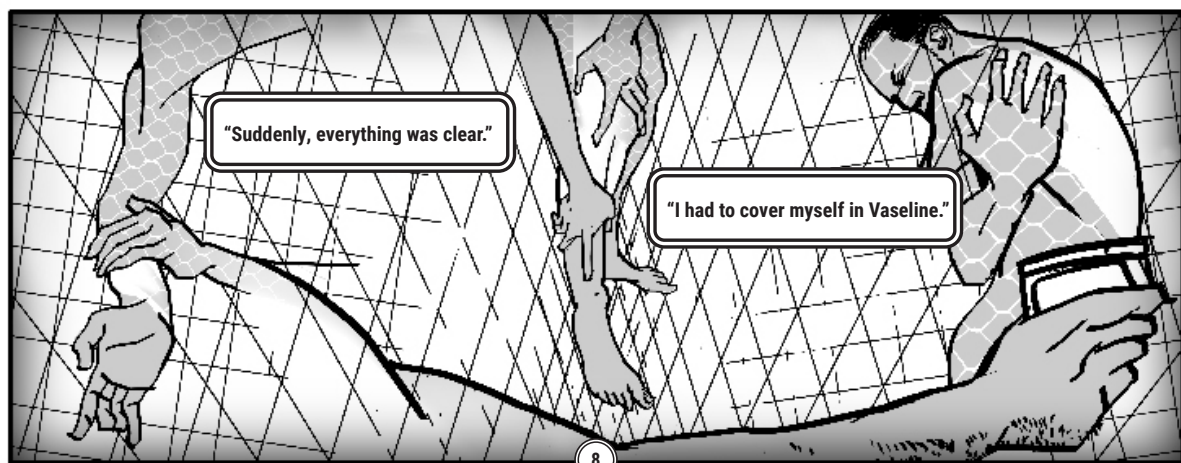

Fragmented thoughts of her first job haphazardly float through her head.

She has made up her mind, though.

"My first step out the door and I'm off running. I'm a gazelle, a gust of wind."
